The Israel Association for Canadian Studies

2021-2022

Shai Arieh

"Canadians for Israeli Studies" grant from the Association is presented in masculine language, although it is addressed to both men and women as a single entity.

The Israel Association for Canadian Studies intends to assist doctoral and master students who write their PhD or Master's theses in Israeli universities on topics that have Canadian content in the humanities.

The Association will grant grants to doctoral and masters students to stay in Canada and conduct research for a period of two months to six months, or to continue their studies in the country.

The right to submit a request:
Doctoral and master students who write their PhD or Master's theses on topics with Canadian content in the humanities.

Structure of the request:
1) The study proposal shall include the following:
   a. Title
   b. Abstract
   c. Theoretical background
   d. A summary of the scientific literature on the subject of the proposed study.
   e. Proposed methodology for conducting the study and possible outcomes of the proposed study.
   f. A summary of the bibliography (total length of the proposal shall not exceed 10 pages).

2) If conducting the study requires going to Canada, you must submit a detailed work plan for the period of stay in Canada.

3) For the request you must attach a CV in English no longer than 2 pages.

4) You must attach the study proposal together with the CV mentioned above.
   a. If you choose to submit your CV late, the academic committee of the center will have the right to make changes in the budget submitted at the request of the committee.
The Israel Association for Canadian Studies is interested in assisting PhD and masters students writing their doctoral thesis or dissertations in Israeli universities on issues of Canadian content, or subjects of common interest to Canada and Israel. The Association will provide scholarships for PhD or masters students for the purpose of staying in Canada and conducting research for a period of two up to six months.

Eligibility for submitting applications:

PhD and masters students writing their doctoral thesis or final paper on subjects with Canadian content in theoretical sciences.

Procedure for submitting applications:

Applications should be written in Times New Roman, 12 point font, and 1.5 spacing, in one of the following languages: Hebrew or English. Each page should be numbered consecutively and should include the candidate's last name on the same line of the page number. Applications for the scholarship must be submitted by February 28, 2021 to the Israel Association for Canadian Studies, through the Halbert Centre for Canadian Studies: mscanada@mail.huji.ac.il

Application Structure:

1. The research application should include the following: a. Title b. Summary c. Theoretical background d. Brief survey of the scientific literature in the research subject e. Proposed research implementation methodology f. Possible results of the proposed research g. Brief bibliography (total length of the proposal should not exceed 10 pages).

Arie Shachar Fellowship in Canadian Studies- 2021

2. If the implementation of the research requires staying and conducting field work in Canada, a detailed work plan of the stay in Canada must be submitted.

3. A short CV (IN English) of up to two pages should be submitted along with the application.

4. A detailed research budget must be attached, which can include: travel (one transatlantic roundtrip, internal travel in Canada for research purposes), daily allowance and other expenses essential to carry out the research. The proposed budget (if approved) will form the framework for the budgetary activity in the research. If deemed necessary, changes in the budget’s items may become possible following a justified request submitted to the Halbert Center’s academic committee and approved by it.

5. Two letters of recommendation must be submitted to us along with the application, one of which should be from the research supervisor, indicating the importance of implementing the research.

Assistance scope and domain:

The maximum scholarship amount will be 6,500 CD (six thousand five hundred Canadian Dollars).

Grants approval announcement date:

Applicants for the scholarship will be informed of the approval or rejection of their requests by the end of March 2021.

Reports:

The final report describing the research methods and results will be submitted, together with the financial report, to the Israeli Association for Canadian Studies up to one year after the completion of the research.

Reference to the association's assistance:

The Israeli Association for Canadian Studies’ contribution must be alluded to in any article or publication resulting from the research.